

Online and Blended Learning Summit

(Immediately following the Commissioner's Convocation)

Open to Superintendents, Assistant Superintendents, Principals, and Technology Directors/Managers

Co-sponsored by: New Jersey Association of School Administrators,
Intel, and K12, Inc.

Wednesday, September 19, 2012

Jackson Liberty High School – 125 North Hope Chapel Road

Jackson, NJ

12:30 pm – 4:00 pm

Only attendees to the Online and Blended Learning Summit are invited to lunch at 12:30 pm. The Summit will begin promptly at 1:00 pm.

AGENDA

1:00 pm – 4:00 pm

National and International Perspectives for Online Learning

An overview of the latest research on online learning, including professional development and course/instructor evaluation in an online environment.

We will also discuss the latest online learning trends in higher education.

Presenter: Dr. Alison Powell, iNacol

Across the State:

Panelists will discuss the challenges that their program has faced and overcome or are still facing within the context of these 7 areas: online curriculum, assessment model, professional development/people issues (how they are training teacher and administrators, evaluating personnel, managing program), funding, policy issues, technology (platforms and infrastructure) and sustainability needs.

Moderator: Bruce Friend

Invited Panelists:

- Steven Engravalle; Superintendent, Ft. Lee Public Schools
- Vanessa Clark; Assistant Superintendent, Lacey Township Public Schools
- Stan Silverman, Director; Technology Based Learning Systems, NY Institute of Technology
- Evo Popoff; Chief Innovation Officer, NJ Department of Education

Free Tools and Programs for online and blended learning by Intel and Microsoft

- Intel Teach
- Office 365
- Intel Leadership Forum

Presenters: Melanie Fekete and Carl Kishel

Creating Educator Capacity for Online and Blended Learning Panel Discussion

- Pre-Service and In-Service Teacher Education
- In-Service Teacher Professional Development
- Course/Instructor Evaluation in an Online Environment

Moderator: Allison Powell

Invited Panelists:

- Dr. Lisa Collins, K12
 - Gregg Festa, Montclair State University
 - Janis Jensen, Kean University
-